PARDEE SAYS RUMBLE LIES

Ex-Governor Answers Ex-Convict

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—"Soon after issuing circulars and letters, the State Mineralogist, L. E. Aubury, demanded tribute from me, saying he would checkmate all my efforts unless paid, which he proceeded to do in every way he could. I reported the matter to Governor Pardee and went twice to Sacramento to see him, only to find that he was in Missouri or Texas. Finally Governor Pardee wrote me in answer to my numerous complaints to the effect that he could not interfere, and that I should pay the tribute or take the consequences."

In the words quoted, G. W. Rumble, who was recently released from San Quentin after serving a sentence of one and a half years there for a conviction for fraudulent mining transactions, has made against State Mineralogist Aubury and former Governor Pardee the most serious accusations that can be made against a public officer. The vehicle for these and other sensational statements was

IMMUNITY CONTRACTS ISSUED LIKE SCRIP

Abe Ruef Has Signed Up to Make the Fight for District Attorney Langdon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—There has been another issue of immunity contracts by the graft prosecution. These premises not to prosecute seem to be circumscribed by the civic reformers as a sort of scrip, with which they pay for re-hearsed evidence, for the relinquishment of public office and for such other things as the prosecution thinks it may require in the conduct of its business of pursuing all the quasi-public corporations of San Francisco, except Spring Valley.

THE PARDON PAPER. The first issue of immunity scrip appears to have been lost, called in, or disappeared mysteriously. It was given to sixteen members of the old Board of Supervisors in consideration of their making confessions of their corrupt acts in office to the prosecution, which was acting under authority of the District Attorney's office. That issue of pardon paper read as follows:

"San Francisco, Cal., March 14, 1907.—Whereas, one James L. Gallagher, of the city and county of San Francisco, State of California, has this day made to me a disclosure of certain crimes and offenses committed by himself and by himself jointly with others, and by others, which he claims to be a full and fair disclosure thereof;

"Now, therefore, it is agreed by me that if he has made a full and fair disclosure of all such crimes and offenses and has stated to me the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, and if he shall, whenever called upon to do so by me, or by any other officer on behalf of the people of the State of California, to again make a full and fair disclosure of such crimes and offenses, together with the facts and circumstances surrounding the same and the persons therewith involved, and tell and testify the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth; then, and in that event, he shall not be prosecuted, complained against, or indicted for any such crime or offense, or his connection therewith.

Twelve Non-Union Men Start Out to Get Into Fight Because One of Number Is Beaten.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.) SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—One of the strike-breakers attached to the Valencia street car barn was beaten by union sympathizers early last evening when he had proceeded hardly a block from the confines of the barn. He returned and told his story and shortly after 1 o'clock this morning, in company with twelve other men, came from the barn looking for a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

HAS GALLAGHER LEFT THE COUNTRY, NOT TO RETURN?

BOODLER GONE, IS THE REPORT

Burns Makes Denial, but Won't Say Where

He Is.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—The streets of San Francisco ran wild with the rumor this morning that James L. Gallagher, former Supervisor and erstwhile acting Mayor, self-confessed boodler, and now wheel horse of the prosecution, has left San Francisco. It was disclosed that Gallagher is bound for England, taking with him the huge sums received from the various corporations as the price of his favors, together with the percentages levied by him upon the share of his boodling colleagues.

MAY GO TO HONDURAS. Gallagher, it is declared, may eventually go to Honduras, there to enjoy even greater probability of immunity than that insured by the contract given him by the graft prosecution.

But, if Gallagher is gone, where does the graft prosecution get off? That is the question that is rapidly passing from lip to lip. Gallagher is absolutely the wheel horse of Heney and Burns. Without his testimony, convictions in the graft cases are impossible. He was the agent of the corporations, and through him the bribe money was distributed to the Supervisors, after he had deducted what he thought right in the way of a percentage for his trouble.

BURNS MAKES DENIAL.

Defective Burns, however, in spite of the assertions that Gallagher is gone, declares that he knows where he is, and that he can produce him when wanted.

"Has Gallagher left town?" was asked of the prosecution's Chief-in-Gum-Shoes this morning.

"He has not," answered Burns. "Gallagher is right here in San Francisco. He has changed his residence, that's all. I can lay my finger on him in a moment if I want him. No, I won't tell you where you can find him."

But despite Burns' seeming assurance, the report, like Banquo's ghost, will not down, and it is the popular belief that Gallagher has fled, to return no more, and that with his flight the prosecution, bereft of its mainstay, must fall like a house of cards.

Ex-Prizefighter Held for Footpad

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—Ernest Leonard was held up shortly after midnight last night in front of the lumber yard of Seymour & Ellis at 142 Townsend street, and relieved of $25 in coin and a watch valued at $45. Leonard reported his loss to the Southern police station and "Police-man Gingham" was detailed on the case. He rounded up James Lucy, an ex-prizefighter, who was in the neighborhood, and could not give a good account of himself, and his name was placed on the delinquent book at the city prison. He has not been identified by Leonard.

CONFESSES TO PRINTING VILE ATTACK ON MAYOR

Detectives Arrest Companion of J. F. Upson and Recover Copies of Obscene Book From Safe Vault.

In a dive in San Francisco on Saturday night Detectives Hodgkins and Flynn arrested C. W. Morgan, a printer, formerly of Fresno, on suspicion that he is the man who assisted J. F. Upson to prepare a booklet containing a vile attack upon Mayor W. Parker Lyon of Fresno and his family. Morgan admitted to the detectives that he knew Upson and had been associated with him, and by gradual admissions it was gleaned that he had edited and revised the infamous copy which was used as the subject matter of the book after it was written up by Upson.

The "literary" part of the work was done in a room on the corner of Fifth and Clay streets, which was rented for the purpose by Upson. After the manuscript was complete, according to admissions made by Morgan, he did the printing and engraving and turned the book out in complete form.

It is believed that Morgan's arrest and confession will assure the conviction of Upson on the criminal libel charge made by Mayor Lyon.

BOOKS SECURED.

Several copies of the booklet were recovered by the detectives from a safe deposit box, which had been rented by Upson and Morgan in the Union Trust Company vaults in San Francisco. In addition, a number of the original photographs which were used as engravings in the book were found. These photographs are undeniably vile in their conception and execution. The head of Mayor Lyon had been pasted over pictures of men in various revolting attitudes. These were used as illustrations for the booklet.

Detective Hodgkins has been on the trail of Morgan ever since the story of Upson's attack on Lyon was received by the police and the printer's arrest was accomplished after some very clever work.

HELD IN JAIL.

It was learned that Upson and Morgan became acquainted while both were serving time in the Fresno county jail and it is believed that the plan to make the scurrilous attack on Lyon was conceived at that time. Morgan is being held in the city prison pending further developments in the case. It is probable that Lyons will swear to a complaint charging him with assisting in the publication of obscene pictures and printed matter.

FIND BODY LYING BY BRICK WALL IN CITY

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—A. R. Staples, a laborer living at 149 Lotos Square, while gathering small sticks of wood on Hawthorn street between Second and Third, at 10:15 o'clock this morning, came upon the decomposed body of a man lying near a brick wall. He notified the coroner's office and the body was removed to the morgue. Letters found on the man's person indicate that his name was Charles McGinnis, and he formerly lived at 686 Howard street. He was apparently forty-eight years of age and it is gathered from letters on his person that he had relatives in Sidney, Australia.

DESPERATE ACT OF FOUR THUGS

Plucky Arrest by Police After Long and Exciting Chase in Hack.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—With in an hour after beating and robbing their victim, four desperate ex-convicts, William Kelley, Frank Brown, William Haines and Frank Williams, were landed in the toils through the clever work of Policemen J. J. Farrell and J. J. Crowley.

George Phelps, a waiter on the steamer City of Sydney, was walking along Bryant street this morning, and being in doubt as to his location he inquired of four men whom he met where Bryant street was. They hesitated for a moment and then said they would take him to the street. He went along with them and when they came to an exceedingly dark place, remonstrated with them, saying: "This don't look like Bryant street." They told him, however, they were leading him in the right direction, and he replied that if they would take him home he would pay them liberally for their trouble.

SEIZED BY THE THROAT.

When they had gone about a block farther, one of the men suddenly grabbed Phelps by the throat while another gave him a stinging blow over the left eye with the butt end of a revolver. The men then relieved him of $16, which he carried in a pocket of his vest, and ran up the street.

As soon as he recovered his presence of mind he ran down the street until he came to the lodging house where he had a room. He went inside and divested himself of his coat and vest, which were both badly blood-stained, and also wiped his wound as best he could with a towel. He then returned to the street and ran yelling "Police!" and "Murder!" at the top of his voice. He turned into Third street and ran into the arms of Farrel, to whom he told his story. Policeman Crowley came up at this juncture, and the two officers started out after the robbers.

They returned to Bryant street and turned Phelps over to another officer, who, in turn, sent him to the Central Emergency Hospital. They then went up Bryant street to Fourth, and along Fourth street to Howard, and met a woman, who told them she had seen the four men run up the latter thoroughfare. The officers proceeded and met up with them at Market and Fifth street, where they met an old man, who told them like Bryant street. They told him, however, they were leading him in the right direction, and he replied that if they would take him home he would pay them liberally for their trouble.

The officers proceeded down until they reached Third street and seeing nothing of the robbers, they entered the Richelle saloon, the only one on the corner.

The bartender told them that four desperado-looking characters had been in there a short time before and after ordering two rounds of drinks and purchasing a fifty-cent bottle of whisky, they were never seen again.

Heney Declares Glass and Halsey Knew of Free Railway Trip South for Oakland Officials.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—Did you have anything to do with opposing the entrance of the Home Telephone Company in Oakland?" asked Attorney Heney of John Krause, Halsey's assistant in the Pacific Telephone Company, during the Glass trial this morning.

"Not exactly in the way of opposing the franchise," answered Krause, "it was in taking up the service there."

"Did you not in Oakland nearly all your time there and report to Mr. Lynch?"

"I was there and saw Mr. Lynch."

"Were you in Mr. Lynch's office the night the Home Telephone franchise was passed to him?"

"I did not object to this question. It was sustained on the ground that it assumed a fact not in evidence. The further examination of Krause was postponed in order to introduce this evidence. Heney

HENRY'S AUTO BREAKS DOWN

He had already gone to Oakland to secure it.

HENRY'S AUTO BREAKS.

Proceedings in Judge Lawler's court were obliged to wait this morning for the appearance of Henry. His automobile broke down and he came dashing up at a dangerous rate of speed in another machine.

Ex-Supervisor Sanderson was recalled for cross-examination. Attorney Delmas announced that he wanted Sanderson's confession, made to Henry at Palo Alto.

"You can have it right now," said Henry.

Delmas had some other matter he wanted to investigate and Sanderson's appearance was postponed.

KRAUSE ON STAND.

John Krause, special agent for the telephone company and assistant to Halleray at the time of the alleged bribery, was examined.

"Whom did you report to?" asked Henry.

"To Mr. Halsey," was the reply.

"Did you take up any position in San Francisco from June, 1906, to March, 1907?"

"I saw some of the Supervisors and took them through the building."

"Did you call on Thomas Lonergan at his house?"

"Yes, I went there and gave him my card. I told him I was in the telephone business."

"Did you go there on Halsey's instructions?"

"My best knowledge, I did."

"Do you know an application for a Home telephone franchise was pending?"

"Not until February."

"What did you think he told you to see the Supervisors?"

"The objection was sustained."

WENT TO LUNCH.

"What did he tell you to see him about?"

"About the telephone service."

"What did you have with Lonergan at lunch?"

"I told him I'd like to take him through the building, show him the system and have him talk to me before we could talk him to lunch."

"Yes, he did."

"Where was it?"

"I think it was Frank's on Pine street."

"Did you go to the Mills building on one occasion?"

"No, I didn't."

"Whom did you see there?"

"Mr. Colemen." He came in and asked for Mr. Halsey.

"Did Mr. Halsey go to the telephone after that?"

SUPERVISORS WERE THERE.

"I think he did."

"Did another supervisor appear?"

"Mr. Wilson came in after a while."

"Mr. Lonergan came in later."

"Who else was there?"

"I saw Mr. Mainlock and Mr. Furey."

"Did you see any persons other than those mentioned?"

"I don't remember any one."

Henry went into the matter of the part played by Halleray in the secretaries of the telephone company was put on the stand.

Eaton read the by-laws of the Pacific States Telephone Company from a book which he brought with him.

Delmas advised Delmas that he might have read this at the telephone company's office to save time.

DELMAS SCORES ONE.

"That is all," said Delmas. "It is an example I do not care to follow."

"I have not been at the telephone office," replied Henry, netted by the information.

Eaton next read a minute entry showing the election of Louis Glass as general manager of the company, a resolution $10,000 to be followed by the resolution providing that checks must be signed by the president and by the general manager of his assistant, the latter being E. J. Zimmerman. This was undoubtedly the former "no," but it was not established as conclusive evidence.

Later appeared a resolution increasing Glass' salary from $10,000 a year to $12,000 per annum, 12½ per cent, during minutes of the board of directors meetings when the noon recess was taken.

USE WAGON IN LIQUOR RAID

Whisky and Beer by Barrel Hauled From "Speak Easy" in Berkeley.

BERKELEY, Aug. 20.—Chief of Police Former Detective Henry E. Jamison and Patrolman H. P. Lee conducted a raid on the alleged "speak easies" of the city last evening on Webster and Third streets, at five o'clock yesterday afternoon. Bender and two of the men found in his resort, Addison Peck and Jim McKey, both of whom were taken into custody. Bender was released on $300 cash bail and his companions on $10 bail each.

At about five o'clock yesterday afternoon, Officers Jamison and Lee stationed themselves outside the resort and Chief Vollmer approached the rear door of the place, and knocked three times. Bender answered to the knock, and looking through an opening in the door.

"Open up, Charlie," commanded the chief, who is acquainted with Bender.

"Nothing doing," answered the saloon keeper.

"Open up or I'll break down this door," continued Jamison, who was met by the same answer from Bender.

The chief then broke through the door and followed the fast retreating Bender to the front of the building where a complete bar counter was running back and side walls. Several men who were in the room made a dash for liberty. Two were captured by the officers waiting outside and the rest are known to be present.

A constable rushed up to the cash register and emptied its contents into his pocket. He was warned to stop by the officers as he was destroying the evidence, but he continued to pour it out.

The chief then took the matter under advisement.

Just as they reached the corner, however, the four men who were after them turned around the corner and proceeded in the direction of Dupont street. They jumped from the hatch and ran into Portsmouth square and walked up past the officers. The robbers entered a cheap lodging house and the officers followed. BOTH PERRIN AND BENSON FACE LONG PRISON TERMS

Millionaire Land Owner and Crafty Land Agent Finally Landed—'Guilty' Said Jury—Sentence on Thursday.

The conviction of Dr. Edward B. Perrin, the millionaire, and most influential of all the men implicated in government land frauds in this State, means the bringing to justice of the most prominent and powerful of the land owners.

Dr. Perrin, who is a native of Alabama, is a man worth millions.

John B. Benson, also indicted, is a land agent whose previous escapes from punishment had led him to believe himself immune, began life as a school teacher, then land surveyor, land agent, and land lawyer. The government has been after him for twenty years, and there are numerous other indictments against him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—After a long and sensational trial a jury in the United States court late yesterday returned a verdict finding Millionaire Edward B. Perrin and Land Agent John A. Benson guilty of conspiring to defraud the government of forest lands. Both men are still out on bail and Judge De Haven announced at the closing of court that he would sentence the men next Thursday.

Dr. Edward B. Perrin, who is a brother-in-law of Francis J. Heney at the head of the craft prosecution in this city, is sixty-eight years old, an ex-army surgeon, and a millionaire. He owns 300,000 acres of timber land in Arizona, 35,000 acres in Northern California, and 2,000 acres in Oregon. The offense on which he has been convicted concerns his trying to add 12,000 acres of land to his possession with the connivance of John A. Benson.

GREATLY SURPRISED.

Neither Perrin or Benson were other than hopeful for a verdict of acquittal. When the jury returned a finding of guilty both of the men nearly collapsed. Dr. Perrin seemed to age by seconds after the verdict. All who witnessed the scene were sympathetic. The old man's white hair grew whiter and his stooping shoulders and bent form almost collapsed. He could not understand for a time the stern reality of the happening. Benson was not even supported by counsel and when Dr. Perrin and his party left the court room he was passed by without a look.

On the motion of District Attorney Devlin neither of the men were taken into custody pending their sentence, the prosecuting officer explaining to the court that they were satisfied with the present bail of the defendants. Both of the men now face severe punishment under the law which means the possibility of long prison sentences.

S. P. Railroad Men Cannot Work on Town's Fare—Company to Remedy It.

RENO, Aug. 20.—One of the reasons the Southern Pacific company is erecting an eating-house on the Hariman reserve, according to Assistant Division Superintendent Rowlands, is that the restaurants in Sparks do not sell the railroad crews food that will sustain them on the trying trips of the road.

"Men have to be fed well to perform the duties required of them in the railroad business," said Rowlands. "The men constantly come here, and complain that the menu of the meal ticket resorts is too poor for proper nourishment. That is one of the reasons the railroad is constructing the cafe on the site there beside the main line."

Passengers as well as railroad men will be fed at the company restaurant.

See That Fine Dressed Lady?

"It must cost her a great deal to always look so nice."

This was a remark overheard on the Grove St. car yesterday.

The cost of looking so well is within the reach of any woman, as this lady did not have on new clothes, but had her old ones done up by the John F. Snow Dyeing and Cleaning Works, at a small expense.

OPPOSE CITY ASSESSMENTS

Four Property-Owners Make Pleas to Council to Cut Down Their Taxes.

Four applications for a reduction of the city assessment were submitted to the City Council, meeting as a Board of Equalization, last evening.

The first application read was that of M. Woflman, who asks that the city assessment of $3,600 on his 29 by 100 foot lot on the west side of Madison street north of Tenth street be reduced to $2,500. The applicant was not present to explain his application, and the consideration of the matter was postponed until August 26, with the understanding that Woflman be notified to appear before the Council in person on that date.

The second application was that of E. Cavanaugh, who asks the city assessment of his 150 foot lot on the south side of Eleventh street at the corner of Elm and Ward streets. The city assessment is $5,250 and the owner wants it reduced to $4,000.

Cavanaugh appeared before the Council and said that in his estimation the property is worth about $2,500 a front foot, while the assessment amounts to $3,000. In May, 1906, he declared that he had purchased a part of the property at $200 a front foot.

Councilman Ellsworth asked whether Cavanaugh had applied to the County Assessor for a reduction of his assessment, which is at the same figure. Cavanaugh replied that he had not done so, on account of lack of time, but that he would do so tomorrow.

TOO LATE.

"That will be impossible," said Ellsworth.

"Well, then, I'll have to abide by his figures," responded Cavanaugh.

The application was taken under advisement by the board.

The application of T. H. Downing for a reduction of the assessment on his 100 foot frontage on Ninth avenue at the corner of Twenty-first street from $5,600 to $3,000 was referred to the City Assessor for consideration.

"The $1,600 more than the property was never assessed before," said Downing. "The house is twenty years old and was considerably shaken up by the earthquake. The improvements on the property are assessed at $1,600, which is a satisfactory figure."

ON TWELFTH STREET.

F. W. Shute submitted an application stating that the city assessment on his property on the north side of Twelfth street between Washington and Broadway, is $5,275, while the county assessment is $4,800. He asked for a reduction of $6275 to correspond with the county assessment. The city assessment on his property on Washington street between Tenth and Eleventh streets is $3,500 and the county assessment is but $2,000. He asks for a reduction of $1,500.

The application was referred to the City Assessor, with instructions to report back to the Council on August 26.

OPERA AT MACDONOUGH.

Commencing tomorrow night at the Macdonough, the San Francisco Opera company, which is composed for the most part of old Tivoli Opera House favorites, will be heard in "Dolly Varden."

The book of "Dolly Varden" is by Stanislaus Stange, the music by Julian Edwards and is regarded by many as their very best efforts; this notwithstanding the fact that "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," "The Jolly Musketeer," "Brian Boru," "Madelaine," or "The Magic Kiss," "Jupiter" or "The Cobbler and the King," "The Wedding Day," and many other clever comic operas owe their births to the joint work of these clever artists.

Undoubtedly, one of the daintiest of comic operas, "Dolly Varden," is credited with making Lulu Glaser famous.

Full score is given for beautiful costuming, elaborate scenic effects and the piece should prove a big box office winner.

SOME OF THE CAST.

Demure and dainty "Dolly Varden" will be played by Daphne Pollard, Jack Fairfax, her guardian, by George Kunkel, Lady Lotta Fairfax by Aida Hemmi, Dick Belleville, in love with Dolly Varden, by Arthur Cunningham, Lord Gay Spark, a Bear Brandt, by Thomas C. Leary, Horace Horcott by Eugene Wiener. The other parts being taken by Maude Beatty, Lillian Raymond, Melvin Stokes and Don Smith. The score of "Dolly Varden" is rich in beautiful melodies.

Some of the most pleasing being: "Swing, My Pretty One, Swing," "Dolly Varden," "I'm Twirling, Whirling," "What Love Means," "When Lovers Are Alone," "Lovable, Love," "The Navy," "The Girl You Love," and "Everybody's Awfully Good To Me," an interpolated song for Thomas C. Leary, the comedian having written some half-dozen topical verses.

NOVELTY THEATER.

The offering at the Novelty theater this week is surely of the class "A" variety of vaudeville and judging from the way the crowds who attended yesterday's and last evening's performances applauded each act shows clearly that they are good judges of vaudeville. The performance starts off with Mr. and Mrs. Larry J. Shaw, who offer one of the best bits of hard shoe, graceful dancing seen in Oakland in many moons and for their efforts they were heartily applauded and were forced to take an encore. The new Gammon European picture of the moving variety showed up clear and flickerless and is quite improvement over the usually seen motion pictures. This was the second number on the program and the comedy of the picture elicited much laughter. The next act on the bill, that of Wells & Sells, is certainly a great pantomime knockabout and startling acrobatic act and their tumbling has never been equalled outside a circus tent. This act met with much approval from the audiences.

UNIQUE DANCING.

The Spray sisters, European whirlwind dancers, scored immensely. Stewart & Desmond a unique talking and singing team, pleased with their number and the comedy of the Hebrew member of the team won many laughs. The big feature act of this week's program, Herr Jansen, the mystic, did marvels with his mysterious presentations and especially interesting and noteworthy is his wonderful Hindoo cabinet and double trunk mystery which caused much wonderment from the audience. It was by far the best trunk trick seen on the local vaudeville stage this season and will have to be seen many times to attempt to unravel it. Another set of exceedingly funny motion pictures entitled: "The Aeronaut" closed an excellent bill that will attract many to the Novelty this week.

MAN OF THE HOUR.

"The Man of the Hour" will be played in Oakland for the week beginning September 3.

WANTS QUIET FREEDOM.

That her husband may stop molesting her, and to force him to contribute a few dollars each month toward her support, while her divorce suit is pending, Sarah M. Flores yesterday filed an affidavit in the Superior Court against Anselmo A. Flores, which the foregoing allegations are contained.

The wife claims that since she and her husband no longer live together, she has been working for a living and, despite this fact, she says her spouse persists in following her and humiliating her in the presence of her employer. At one place where she was employed, the woman claims that Flores intended to leave so much that she was forced to leave the position and seek work elsewhere.

Mrs. Flores alleges her husband is a mechanic and makes $100 a month. She wants the court to award her a suitable sum and to award to her the services of an attorney to defend her.

New "Sweepers" to Be Put In Use on Thoroughfares Tonight for First Time.

The Sanitary Street Sweeping company, which has been awarded the contract for sweeping the city streets, will begin operations tonight. Two of the new sanitary street sweepers purchased by the company will be put in use. The new machine will sweep up all dust by suction. The old, dry way used to kick the machines by blower, which deposits dirt in organized iron cans. These are covered and removed to the dump on separate wagons.

TO PROTECT STATE TREES

Prominent Society Woman to Take Part in Irrigation Congress.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—Mrs. Lowell White and Miss Catherine H. Hittell have been elected delegates from the California Club to the National Irrigation Congress, which will convene at Sacramento during the week beginning September 2.

Mrs. White and Miss Hittell will attend the congress in the interest of the big trees of California, the matter of forestry being so closely allied with that of irrigation as to form a subject of discussion at the congress.

TO READ PAPER.

In addition to her election as a delegate to the congress, Mrs. White has been further honored with a request to contribute a paper to the program, and thus become the only woman to address the convention.

As the attitude of the California Club is patriotic, sentimental and artistic and not scientific, Mrs. White has declined to take part in the discussion on forestry. The representatives of the California Club feel that they could enlighten the convention on many things concerning the preservation of the beautiful, which they consider applicable to the matter of forestry in California, but they are of the opinion that the coming convention will not furnish the proper time and environment for such a move.

SURFEIT OF EXCITEMENT

Couple Wedded Under Romantic Circumstances Return From Old World.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—When Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Perkins is registered at the Hotel Markwell last evening, one of the longest and most exciting honeymoon trips in which prominent American young people have been, the principals was brought to a happy ending.

Later she traveled two thousand miles into the interior of China to save his life. They have just reached here after a trip around the world.

"We have had enough excitement to last our lives," said Mrs. Perkins, "and it seems almost too good to be true to the safety of civilization."

Perkins entered the navy during the Spanish War, became an officer and was three years on duty with the Philippine fleet. It was while he was on leave, visiting in California, that he first met Mrs. Perkins, who was then Miss Maude Gage.

SPRING VALLEY RIGHTS SAVED

New Supervisors Rescind Order
Divesting Water Company of Franchise.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—By a vote of 14 to 1 the Supervisors yesterday rescinded the ordinance passed by the old board, forfeiting the franchise of the Spring Valley Water Company because of its alleged refusal to acquiesce in the rates to consumers fixed by the board.

The negative vote was cast by Supervisor O'Neill, though Supervisor D'Ascanio also spoke against the rescinding action.

The question came up on the resolution offered a week previous by Supervisor Brenner. Its introduction was preceded by a verbal report from Mayor Taylor to the effect that the law committee between the committee of the board and representatives of the water company.

In the report the Mayor said the company had promised to at once complete the pipe line from Baden to the Lake Merced pumping station, which would give the city 10,000,000 gallons of water daily.

At present the company has promised to use its influence in resounding the forfeiture resolution.

WANTS DELAY.

When Supervisor Brenner's resolution was again called Supervisor O'Neill objected on the ground that any action at this time would be too hasty. Undoubtedly he said, that Spring Valley had promised to go to the board to submit the evidence of the company's good faith is as yet before neither the board nor the public.

Supervisor D'Ascanio expressed similar views.

"It seems to me," he said, "that we should wait to see something actually done by the company."

"Oh, we've got to deal fairly with people," said the Mayor. "We can't play fast and loose. The board of directors of the company gave us their word that they would go ahead at once, with the result."

After this, he declined to give him a hearing, however, and on a vote the rescinding resolution was adopted.

SCHOOLS OVERCROWDED AT SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—The opening of the public schools yesterday brought out an exceedingly large attendance of children. In Richmond and Mission districts the schools were over crowded and the children will have to be sent to school for the overflow.

A great deal of discussion was gone into and seemed that all of the trustees were satisfied as to the need of the ordinance with the exception of Trustee Schmidt, whose contention was that in carrying out of the proposed ordinance a great expenditure of money would be necessary.

MILK TO BE TESTED.

The ordinance, as it now is, provides that all dairymen shall be forced by law to procure a certificate from some duly licensed veterinary surgeon stating that his cows have been examined and their milk tested and found pure. It also provides that each cow shall be described for identification.

Trustee Schmidt opposed this plan stating that each spot on the hide of the animal would have to be marked down, the horns measured and the color of each cow given. This, said Schmidt, would make it necessary to employ a large number of men.

Dr. Benton denied this, saying that it would cost nothing whatever as the authorities in the agricultural department of the State University have voted to do all this free of cost to the town.

"As far as I'm concerned," said Schmidt, "I'm through with all this business by sprinking the streets and do away with all this vaccine and tuberculosis proposition."

DEATHS FROM BAD MILK.

Dr. Benton stated to the board that all practicing physicians in the town would testify that from sixty to seven ty-five per cent of deaths of infants in Berkeley was due to failure of milk.

No definite action was taken in the matter and the board will take it up at a meeting to be held this evening.

OFF

NAVAL BANQUETERS HEAR PERKINS AND KNOWLAND

Two Distinguished Statesmen at Vallejo Feast Enthusiastic With Predictions of America's Sea Power.

VALLEJO, Aug. 20.—The great fleet will soon head for the Pacific Coast waters will receive no warmer reception than was given last night to the high representatives of the navy at an elaborate banquet tendered by the Chamber of Commerce of Vallejo. Admiral William S. Cowles, head of the bureau of equipment; Admiral W. L. Capps, chief of the bureau of construction and repair; the Marine Corps Navy Yard, and members of the California Congressional delegation were the guests of honor.

In introducing the orators of the evening, Toastmaster Devlin said that he regretted that the inaccessibility of the summering place of Victor H. Metcalf, Secretary of the Navy, who was to have been the principal guest of honor, had resulted in his absence. Regrets were also received from Governor Gillett, who was unable to attend.

The future of the navy of the United States and the future welfare of Vallejo in consequence of the war were the main topics of the equipment of the yard at Mare Island to meet the requirements of the conditions, were the themes of the speakers.

The addresses of Senator George C. Perkins and Congressman J. R. Knowland were the features of the evening.

SENATOR PERKINS' ADDRESS.

The mention of the name of Senator Perkins evoked a storm of applause, which broke out simultaneously in all parts of the room.

Senator Perkins said: "The same patriotic feeling to which reference has been made is entertained in the heart of every true American. The President of the United States is the chosen one of about 80,000,000 of people. He is selected because he is an American, because he is a lover of this country and because he is loyal to the people's interests. Commander of the army and navy, he has won his epaulets and spurs in battle. He came up from the ranks. He was a Westerner from the plains, although he turned to the East. Roosevelt's name is known and respected at home and abroad, wherever civilization reigns."

We feel proud in having representatives of the President here tonight. In the persons of officers of the navy of the United States, and we feel at times that legislation would not be effective if there were not some persons to carry into effect the laws which have been enacted.

"I want to say that we tried to make liberal appropriations for the navy, and if we have not done all we wanted to do, it is not our fault.

"I have been a member of the naval committee in the Senate for fourteen years, and during that period there have been passed through our hands a total of $1,012,233,363.86 for the building of ships and the support and maintenance of the navy.

"That means an average outlay per year during those fourteen years of $72,302,239.56. I want to say, in passing, that we have more naval power now than ever before, and the appropriation has increased from $22,394,124.99 in 1894-5 to $38,953,207.50 in 1895-6, and at times, in view of the extra work, the appropriation reached the enormous sum of $125,301,975.78.

SHIPS OF NAVY FIRST CLASS.

"We have seventeen battleships in commission and twelve more battleships in course of construction. We have one second-class battleship, seven monitors, and six armored cruisers in construction. We have twenty-two protected cruisers, and other vessels fit for service numbering 276, with forty-nine men to the gun, making a grand total of 315 vessels of war in our navy fit for service. This showing matches the second only to Great Britain, the greatest naval power in the world, and they are equal to cope with any nation in the world.

"The last Congress authorized the construction of two new battleships, one armored and one armored and as powerful armament as any known vessel of their class. They are also to have the highest practical speed and are to cost $6,000,000 each exclusively of armor and armament, and this will make the two ships, when fully equipped and ready for sea, fast and well equipped. These two battleships will be second to no battleship in the world, and if the exigency should arise the Stars and Stripes would maintain their supremacy in the world.

"We are honored by having the administration represented here to night and I want them to speak first and I want them to tell us what they do and I want them to tell them what we want.

IMPROVED EQUIPMENT.

"We feel that we ought to have for Mare Island as fine an equipment as any navy yard, not excepting that of the Brooklyn navy yard. We can do as good work in as and be done in any navy yard in the country.

"I put you on the stand, Admiral Capps. You have climbed up, who whose first visit here was made as a midshipman two years ago.

"We have for years urged the government to detail a squadron on the Pacific coast, and what has been done for the Atlantic and what for the Pacific? The Atlantic coast line from Maine to Charleston has about the same length as the coast line of California, which is about 700 miles, from San Francisco City to San Diego.

"On the Atlantic coast there are seven navy yards. Let us compare at Portsmouth, on the coast of England. In Portsmouth the government more to blast out the rock at Portsmouth harbor than it has expended here in twenty-five years.

"There is a Brooklyn in Cheshireton. There is another place where there have a depth of thirty-five feet of water. Then there is Washington and you can reach it only by mail boat. That is a nation. Then there is Nome. That is a good one, and finally Chincion, S. C.

ONLY ONE YARD IN CALIFORNIA.

"Now, in California, for a distance of over 700 miles, we have only one navy yard.

"Admiral Capps said to me some time ago, when we were agitating the question of building a collier here: 'I know you can do good work here, but I am going to give you the collier.'

"Down at Tiburon I saw a pile recently that was driven eleven months ago, and the price per ton of coal had been eaten by the teredo and 10 per cent by the limonia.

"Here at Mare Island I'll show you piles of coal which were driven thirty years ago, and they are as clean and pure as they were on the day they were driven, thirty years ago.

The limonia is not common. The fresh water from the snows of the Sierras meets the tide from the ocean and knocks off all the barnacles which accumulate on the bottom of the vessel while at sea, and the ships do not need repainting.

"Mr. Admiral, I want to thank you for what you will do and have done for us. You have done what we do when we come of age."

The Senator told an apposite story of Tom Young, who was a boy of twelve, and how he got away from home to find more men than he could get at Mare Island.

CONGRESSMAN KNOWLAND.

"We are young in years, but we are old in patriotism. We are for the old flag and an appropriate. We are for Theodore Roosevelt and his policies. We have a square deal for all the people. I am sure if you do not give us all we want it will be because Congress does not make the necessary appropriation."

The Senator told an apposite story of Tom Young, who was a boy of twelve, and how he got away from home to find more men than he could get at Mare Island.

PANAMA'S CONSULAR.

Panama has established a general consulate here and Major-General Manuel Quintero, who distinguished himself during the war of independence waged against Colombia, has just arrived from the city of Panama to occupy the post of Consul General.

Constituent J. R. Knowland was received with a long round of applause.

"I notice on the program," he said, "that I am placed next to Admiral Capps. I notice that my name is placed next to Admiral Capps, and I don't know but that the nearest I ever got to the admiral is when he was born, here, this evening.

It has been said, here, this evening, that there is more work than workers at Mare Island. It would be better to have it at Mare Island, to find more men than there are at Mare Island.

OPPENHEIMER NOW IN TERROR

Murderer Turns Pale When Told by District Attorney He Must Hang.

SAN QUENTIN, Aug. 20.—Jake Oppenheimer, murderer and prison fiend, more feared by wardens and guards than any other convict confined within the penitentiary walls, is an abject wreck, a trembling wretch seeking refuge to brace him for the ordeal on the gallows. When District Attorney Thomas P. Boyd and Justice of the Peace Magee, with Warden John E. Hoyle, backed by armed guards, confronted Oppenheimer in the captain's office late yesterday afternoon, the desperate felon's defiant, sneering manner gave no evidence of any regret for the brutal attack upon the fellow convicts. Jim Wilson, last Wednesday, he began boasting of his prowess, but when told that he would be hanged he broke down.

"Wilson was in my way," Oppenheimer began. "I'm sorry he got there. If he hadn't, I would have got to O'Neill, and sooner or later I will get him yet."

SAYS HE IS NOT AFRAID.
"Lock me up!" the prisoner rasped. "You haven't got a cell in your whole place that I can't get out of. I'm not afraid, and you are—every one of you." Then Boyd said to Oppenheimer: "Are you aware that the attack you made on Wilson will place a noose about your neck?"

At once the pallor of terror spread over the degenerate face of the incorrigible criminal. In the place of the fierce promises from California have promised that every dollar is honestly expended and that every navy yard is brought up to the highest efficiency. It is given to us that Mare Island can build as good and as cheap a collier as good as any navy yard in the United States can build then we will be in a position to offer Congress and the admiralty departments take advantage of the opportunity, by building one of the best colliers in the United States and ask for something more. We have now two protected cruisers and is not up to the employees and officials of the yard to do their part. I feel that the situation is appreciated and that you will turn out and that you have turned out, the fine work of any navy yard in the United States.

"I hope in a few years—if I remain in Congress—that I shall be able to say that California has made good. Now, we want to build a battleship and there will be no objection from the Navy Department or the chief of construction."

OTHER SPEAKERS.
Other speakers of the event and their subjects were as follows: Admiral Henry W. Lyon, "The Naval Stations of the Pacific"; George W. Jones, Congressman W. E. Englehardt, "Valley in Former Days"; Congressman E. A. Hayes, "The Press"; Congressman J. C. Neaseham, "Federal Irrigation in the West"; Captain Lucien Young, "The Flag."

TRIES TO SAVE TWO DROWNED

Girl Pulls Would-Be Rescuer to Death With Her in Creek.

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 20.—While bathing at Mill creek, about twenty-one miles from this city, Hazel Riley, a twelve-year-old girl, was drowned yesterday with Joe Monroe, a tinsmith, who attempted to save her. The girl, with a number of friends, went swimming in the shallow water of the creek, but not being well acquainted with the bed of the creek, she stepped into a deep hole, and being unable to swim, sank immediately.

Munroe attempted to save her, but in doing so pulled the girl down to his death.

NO HOPE FOR SLAYER.

Oppenheimer will have a preliminary examination at 10 o'clock Thursday morning in the warden's office here. District Attorney Boyd, in commenting on the case last night, said:

"I can see no hope for Oppenheimer, as this is a capital offense, and the punishment for it is death."

"I was amazed at the almost unbelievable change which came over the man at the idea of hanging. I am certain that he is sane, and I believe him to be in many respects far above the average man in cunning."

Prison officials will give Oppenheimer no opportunity to take his own life, and every precaution has been taken against such a contingency.

WHITE FLY IS UNDER FIRE

Commissioner and Five Deputies Busy on Tevis Grove Near Bakersfield.

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 20.—Elwood Cooper, State Commissioner of Horticulture, and five deputies are now in this city, spending most of their time at the Stockdale Ranch of William S. Tevis, and are endeavoring an active campaign against the deadly pest, the white fly, which has asserted itself in the beautiful ranch grounds.

Herrington is accused of inducing Ray Roseblade to change his testimony in the trial last December of Burt Horgan, accused of the murder of Frank Adams. Roseblade, in the preliminary hearing, which was concluded today, was digging for the Southern Mining Company. The company, composed of Los Angeles capitalists, refused to incur the expense of recovering the body, estimated at about $300 or to stand any part of this amount, and Coronel McGinn was in a quandary.

Herrington's attorneys, John E. Richards and Louis O'Neal, moved that the complaint be dismissed on the ground that the evidence did not show that Elwood Cooper was guilty of inducing Roseblade to testify falsely.

Justice F. B. Brown denied the motion, and Herrington's bonds were fixed at $2500. His attorneys began suit, and for a time Coronel McGinn thought that he would have to await the result of the legal action before performing his duty. What caused the change in the attitude of the company has not been learned.

Surrounding territory, it is believed by these workers that the Stockdale ranch is the only one which is infected with the pest. To prevent a spread of the pest, the strictest quarantine will be kept in effect, and William S. Tevis has given the entomologists full sweep of his property.

LAWYER MUST STAND TRIAL

Attorney Bound Over to Answer Charge of Subornation of Perjury.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 20.—Bert O. Herrington, San Jose attorney, has been bound over to the Superior court to answer a charge of subornation of perjury.

Herrington is accused of inducing Ray Roseblade to change his testimony in the trial last December of Burt Horgan, accused of the murder of Frank Adams. Roseblade, in the preliminary hearing, which was concluded today, was digging for the Southern Mining Company. The company, composed of Los Angeles capitalists, refused to incur the expense of recovering the body, estimated at about $300 or to stand any part of this amount, and Coronel McGinn was in a quandary.

Late last night, however, word was received that the body had been recovered by digging many feet of cribbing. A brother of the dead man threatened to shoot Herrington if he did not release him.

Justice F. B. Brown denied the motion, and Herrington's bonds were fixed at $2500. His attorneys began suit, and obtained a temporary writ. In Judge Welch's court on Friday Herrington's attorneys will ask that the writ be made permanent.

The members of the commission hope to be able to destroy the largest part of the insects without adopting the heraldic method of destroying the trees themselves; and unless the pest is found to be too thick, it will not be necessary to adopt more than the fumigating process.

Prison officials will give Oppenheimer no opportunity to take his own life, and every precaution has been taken against such a contingency.

GETS NO BODY FOR INQUEST

Coroner Balked When He Finds Corpse is 50 Feet Under Ground.

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 20.—Faced by the novel situation of being unable to hold an inquest upon a dead man because his body is fifty feet under the ground, Coroner McGinn returned yesterday from Rosamond, where Zach Wheat, a colored miner and well digger, was killed Friday night by the cavening of the walls of a mine he was digging for the Southern Mining Company. The company, composed of Los Angeles capitalists, refused to incur the expense of recovering the body, estimated at about $300 or to stand any part of this amount, and Coronel McGinn was in a quandary.

Late last night, however, word was received that the body had been recovered by digging many feet of cribbing. A brother of the dead man threatened to shoot Herrington if he did not release him.

Some Aspects of the Graft Crusade.

In a private letter an old friend of THE TRIBUNE complains that he cannot understand the attitude of this paper toward the graft prosecution in San Francisco. There ought to be no room for misunderstanding. It is our desire that every guilty man should be prosecuted and punished. But justice should play no favorites nor bargain with thieves in such manner as to compound and condone felony and offer a premium for the commission of perjury against presumably innocent men. The law should not be strained to accomplish results however desirable seemingly nor methods repugnant to morality and decency be employed to aid a cause urged as righteous.

THE TRIBUNE was in hearty sympathy with the graft prosecution till the men who were conducting it went into partnership with the political bandits who were looting the town, guaranteed them immunity and made them stock witnesses for the people. The furtive political deals with these scoundrels were revolting to the moral sense, while the methods and public utterances of William J. Burns, who is only a hired mercenary in the graft crusade, defied excuse, so contrary were they to the principles of honor and justice.

Then the peculiar relations existing between the District Attorney's office and Abe Ruef, who organized and captained the campaign of graft in San Francisco, naturally provoke suspicion and distrust. At the outset this man was justly regarded as the arch-criminal of them all. Each fresh development has confirmed that view, but the conviction grows that Ruef is not to be punished but is to be allowed freedom to enjoy his ill-gotten gains as a reward for becoming an instrument of virtue.

Furthermore, the position the graft prosecution took with regard to the car strike, which seems to have been in close connection with the District Attorney's office, seemed vicious and dictated by ulterior motive. This strike, which has done infinite public harm, retarded the rebuilding of San Francisco and caused much strife in the industrial world, appears to have been directly incited by some at least of the leaders of the graft prosecution. On one hand violence was encouraged and on the other no effort was made to suppress lawlessness and riot. To our mind this furtive manipulation, in collusion, of the machinery of justice and the affairs of a labor union was bad and mischievous.

Lastly, this paper is a firm believer in President Roosevelt's doctrine of a square deal for everybody, whether rich or poor. It believes in giving fair play and telling the truth. It is for enforcement of the law in accordance with the principles of law and the spirit of justice. It believes in fair trials by impartial juries before unbiased judges. A partisan judge, no matter how upright in intention and honest in motive, is not qualified to take the liberty and property of citizens in his hands. Courts should never be degraded from their high, independent function to a subordinate part in a criminal prosecution directed by political and financial aims.

The old police maxim of set a thief to catch a thief is not a high-minded one. While it is often necessary to use the testimony of villains in promoting the ends of the law, such testimony has justly been regarded in all ages as in its nature suspicious and open to question, and hence is never accepted without ample corroboration. When it is employed wholesale and in a way suggestive of conspiracy under the incentive of reward or compulsion, it takes on a still more sinister aspect. Justice has no business to consort with criminals, still less adopt their morals and methods. The excuse that the end justifies the means is a threadbare pretense that has soaked the earth with innocent blood and filled the world with wrong and suffering.

Artificial Facilities for Commerce.

The Los Angeles Dock and Terminal Company is engaged in the work of creating an artificial harbor on the former Bixby ranch at Long Beach which should serve as an object lesson to other points on the coast where facilities for commerce may be either created or increased by artificial means. It is a strictly private enterprise based on a slough opening on the ocean which at one time constituted the mouth of the San Gabriel river, a stream that rarely flows now into the sea, sinking in the sandy bottom lands of the valley many miles before reaching tidewater and obtaining a subterranean outlet. Its projectors were keen enough, however, to see that the slough afforded an opportunity for the making of a landlocked harbor of any proportions desired through the cheap process of dredging. They, therefore, embarked upon the enterprise fearlessly, and planned a scheme of commercial development involving the expenditure of $2,225,000, the excavation of 6,500,000 cubic yards of marsh land, the construction of jetties extending seaward 800 feet at the entrance, the development of three ship channels—one thirty feet in depth and the other two twenty-one feet deep—for the admission of the largest craft now employed in the commerce of the Pacific Ocean, and the construction of a concrete dry dock 600 feet in length. It is in some respects a larger enterprise than the Federal government undertook when it started to deepen the channel of San Antonio Creek and improve the inner harbor of Oakland. When the present plans are completed this artificial harbor will have a lineal water frontage of 23,266 feet, which may be increased later indefinitely. A Toledo, O., shipbuilding company has acquired thirty-five acres on one of the three channels which are being excavated, and it is this corporation which intends building the drydock, for whose construction the cement is now on the ground. The new harbor promises to become a formidable rival to that of San Pedro, where the Federal government has spent a pile of money in constructing a long masonry breakwater enclosing a large section of the open roadstead which Richard A. Dana made famous in his California hide-drogher story of "Three Years Before the Mast."

The point of interest to Oakland in the development of this enterprise lies in the possibilities of increasing the facilities for commerce in Oakland's inner harbor through the dredging of ship docks in the unimproved Alameda marshes as well as on the shallow submerged tide and marsh lands on the western side of the city. No other harbor in the world has been endowed with such favorable conditions for comparatively inexpensive development, for none other has such a vast area of marsh and shallow tide lands adjoining it whose excavation into docks can be cheaply done and no system of excavation was ever before invented or applied which equals in low cost, great capacity and expedition that represented in the modern hydraulic dredger. Some of the larger plans which are about to be carried out for the increase of Oakland's commercial facilities have been drawn on these lines, and they may be considered as merely the forerunners of still greater enterprises in the near future.

SENATOR FORAKER'S RECENT REMARKS IN FAVOR OF HIGH TARIFF

Foraker (to Ohio republican state committee)—"Gentlemen, we must not revise the tariff. It does lots of people good. Let well enough alone. And now, after what I have said, gentlemen, can you imagine any one who is foolish enough to stand up for tariff revision?"

France Wants a Free Hand.

The situation in Morocco is growing more tense. France and Spain are now acting merely under the police powers conferred upon them by the treaty of Algeciras, to which all of the great powers of Europe are signatories. But such a condition of disorder exists in the country, amounting practically to a state of anarchy, which the Sultan is incapable of controlling, the French government wants a free hand and has intimated that it may be obliged to exceed the powers conferred upon it by the treaty to enable it to restore order. The only construction which can be placed on such a suggestion is that it may be necessary for France to inaugurate a war of invasion to subjugate the fanatical tribes of the interior who are semi-independent of the Sultan's rule and who are struggling most of the time to throw off the semblance of his yoke. The powers may not consent to the French program on the ground that it may incite a religious war. There is no telling where religious war between Mohammedans and Christians would end. The probabilities are that it would set at least the three continents of Europe, Asia and Africa afire, and the United States would become involved through its sovereignty of the Mohammedan tribes in the Philippine archipelago.

The danger of the Moroccan affair developing into a religious war is based on the fact that the massacre in Casa Blanca which led to the occupation of that seaport town by French and Spanish troops had its origin in the preachings of a holy war by Ma el Ainin for the expulsion of the "infidel Christians." El Ainin stands toward the French pretty much in the same relationship as the Mad Mullah does to the British on the southern border of the Soudan. The French have nicknamed him "the sorcerer." El Ainin's animosity was first aroused by the French undertaking to convert the open roadstead of Casa Blanca into a harbor. He influenced the tribal chiefs to protest against the work. When they were advised that the improvement was being made with the Sultan's consent, they repudiated the Sultan, declaring that he no longer exists for them if he obeys the Christians.

But the suppression of anarchy and the permanent preservation of order in Morocco means more to France than to any other nation. It borders on the rich colony of Algeria which France has been for many years straining its efforts to develop. The endless raids of the mountain tribes of Morocco across the Algerian border have been a constant hindrance to the settlement and development of the colony. The great value of Algeria to France is suggested in the representation that when assured security against raids from hostile tribes, it is capable of pasturing from 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 head of cattle. The government has recently started a scientific campaign for the systematic settlement of the country. Emigrants with families are invited to go there, and seventy-five and one hundred and fifty-acre tracts of the best land in the northern part of the colony are being offered to them as inducements. Every railway station and every public office in the country is placarded with the most seductive offers to emigrate to Algeria. If France is only allowed to subjugate the lawless tribes of Morocco the problem of Algerian settlement will have been solved, and that is why the republic wants to be given a free hand at the present time.

According to the newspaper reports Dr. Perrin, Heney's brother-in-law, wept when his attorney was pleading with the jury which was trying him on a charge of defrauding the government out of nearly 150,000 acres of the public lands to relieve him of the consequences of his crime and leave him in peaceable possession of what he is accused of having obtained by deliberate premeditated fraud. His tears were either of the crocodile order or were the genuine product of the fear of conviction.

At last the unspeakable Dinan will be deposed from his office as Chief of Police, a position he has abused and disgraced.

MERRY ENGLISH MODELS TO WED AMERICAN BROTHERS Beauties Who Brave Critics and Pose in Public Capture Wealthy Pittsburghers for Husbands.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 20.—"I am going to quit posing, 'the bath' and those other pictures, and—
"Oh, I see!" chimed in the model of "Harmony," "and pose the beautiful 'blushing bride,' she added.
"I see, I see."
"Well, what do you see?" demanded the model of "The Bath."
"That you're going to get married, of course."

"Well, Grace Kingsley, it's all your fault, but I'm happy, anyway, and now you've got to fees up, too."

And the models of "The Bath" and "Harmony," two pretty members of the London Model Troupe, who have been posing living productions of famous paintings at the Nixon during the past two weeks, both confessed—they'll be a double wedding after the season of the troupe ends at Newport a few weeks hence. There is a possibility, too, that Grace Kingsley, the model of "Harmony," and Lilly Devenney, the model of "The Bath," will both return to Pittsburgh to reside, the former as Mrs. John Badger and the latter as Mrs. R. N. Badger.

KIND OF CUTIE."

"Kind of cute isn't it?" suggested Lilly, "that after all the talk there was in Pittsburgh about 'The Bath' the girl who returns and braves the critics by posing the picture should be rewarded by getting a Pittsburgh—wealthy man—for a husband!"

The "cuteness" of it all was admitted.

Don't Care for Friend's Plant

"If you have a friend going away for the summer," said the woman of experience, "don't keep a plant for her. The thing will probably die anyway, and you would consider yourself responsible. I worried through six weeks one summer tending a plant for a friend and then was invited to the country for a week end. I stayed two days in addition. Of course the plant was dead when I came back, and my outing was half spoiled by worrying over it. I bought a duplicate of it the day before my friend returned, and it cost me $2. Even then she said she thought it looked peaked."

Pet Canine's Wool Stuffs Sofa Pillow for Milady's Weary Head

Lap dogs really have a use these days, other than that of ornamentation and of systematic destruction of everything within sight. Their mistresses are lately finding them of more value than that of a mere receptacle for candy, caresses and other sweetmeats, and they are now using them for other purposes than company on their automobile tours and as an outlet for their feelings of annoyance and ennui, the little creatures' ears no longer to cut his long curls once or twice a day.

When comes the happy time to try

But with light heart and smiling face,
When you are questioned, answer Aye!

THE FACE OF A WOMAN

UNTIL the age of thirty years the face of a woman is a book written in a foreign language, and which one may still translate despite idiomatic difficulties, after forty years a woman becomes an undecipherable manuscript. If anybody can divine an old woman, it must be another old woman.—Flat.

The Gentle Art of Conversation

Learn to be a good listener first. If you are witty, be sure that your wit is always innocent and kindly. Avoid personalities. Avoid talking about disease or sickness either in yourself or in other people. Cultivate a sense of humor by reading and close observation. Almost every situation has its humorous aspect. Try and find it. If you are the hostess of the occasion do not talk about yourself, but try and make the conversation general or, better still, arrange it so that each guest will have the opportunity of talking on the subject which interests him the most. Don't try to be funny, unless you are naturally gifted with a great deal of wit, to be merely funny is to become obnoxious. If you lack topics for conversation read the daily newspapers intelligently and try and remember what you have read and learn by heart a few good anecdotes or amusing stories of jokes. Don't be artificial. Try and be honest and genuine in what you say. Don't be affected. If you are not in the habit of using a broad "A" don't put it on company's sake, for it will slip off and make you appear ridiculous. A well-bred woman is marked by the quality of her voice as much as by the way she uses it. Don't use slang.

Widow Goes Daily in Ocean Surf

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Poor Mrs. Herman Oelrichs seems fated for mishaps. In a small electric runabout the other day she stopped in front of a garage presided over by a veterinary surgeon, and signaled for an attendant. As the man approached the machine and she leaned forward to speak, she reeled and fell from the vehicle, striking on her head upon the hard, unsympathetic ground. Among the dozen-odd greetings in the place there was almost a panic. The sight of Mrs. Oelrichs rolled in the dust of a public thoroughfare was too affecting. They picked her up tenderly, touched her with as much care as their unaccustomed fingers were capable of, and replaced her in the upholstery. Then, seeing that she was partly stunned and a trifle faint, one of the men jumped into the machine and whisked her home to Boscoville.

Just to show that the accident was trivial, Mrs. Oelrichs appeared the next afternoon at 5 o'clock in the surf at

GRAMMAR GRADE MATRON FINDS HER WAITRESS COLLEGE BRED

"No, madam," said the waitress; "I'm sorry, but don't know the name of that flower. In fact, I can't tell you the names of any of the table flowers. We had only a year of botany in college, and I am not familiar with the flora here."

"Thank you, madam," was the response. "I hope soon to be doing something better, but it is the money I have earned as a waitress that has enabled me to learn. I shall be graduated from college next year, and I have been promised a position as teacher in the 'prep' school I attended."

Curiously enough, the woman of fashion found it difficult after that to maintain the air of superiority and patronage she had affected toward the waitress. A friend of hers recalled that she had enjoyed only a grammar school education.

staggerer to the guest of a fashionable hotel on Lake George, leaving her for a moment unable to speak. At last, regaining her composure, she raised her lorgnette and, staring at the young waitress, said:

"It strikes me, miss, that a person of your attainments had better be doing some higher order of work."

"Thank you, madam," was the response. "I hope soon to be doing something better, but it is the money I have earned as a waitress that has enabled me to learn. I shall be graduated from college next year, and I have been promised a position as teacher in the 'prep' school I attended."

Curiously enough, the woman of fashion found it difficult after that to maintain the air of superiority and patronage she had affected toward the waitress. A friend of hers recalled that she had enjoyed only a grammar school education.

BATHING-SUIT HABIT MAKES GIRLS IMMODEST

Men Lose Respect, Says Writer, for Women Who Loaf on Beach in Abbreviated Costumes.

(By ROSANNA SCHUYLER.)

Why not be well bred, even when going in swimming? It should seem simple, but the conspicuous lack of ordinary decorum displayed by young women from the time they don bathing suits until again in regulation garments is such that to call it shocking is no exaggeration.

It makes no difference who the girl is who lets about on the beach for an hour or more in her bathing suit—the custom is common, and the influence of what might be called "the bathing suit habit" is not good. It engenders an informality that cannot be regarded as desirable from any point of view, and is unquestionably largely responsible for the "half fellow, well met" manner that one sees so much between men and girls who have but the shortest acquaintance.

OBJECTIONS ARE MANY.

The objections to putting on a bathing suit at 10 o'clock in the morning, for instance, and keeping it on until noon, are so many that one wonders how it ever became so general a custom.

Bathing suits are becoming to girls in pictures or possibly in summer opera choruses, but the young woman who looks pretty or attractive as she walks across the beach ready to go in swimming is a rarity.

Any vestige of charm that she may have is entirely gone when once she has had a breaker go over her, and when her hair becomes soaking it is courageous to the point of recklessness to allow herself to be seen by any but herself or her maid.

Wet hair will make a professional beauty look like a fright.

The effect upon her skin of having the sun beat down after she is wet with salt water is ruinous. She not only burns, freckles or tans, which would be bad enough, but her complexion becomes dried and toughened and she is well under way on the quick road to fine lines and wrinkles. At eighteen or even twenty-two she may not mind this, but at twenty-eight she will be remorseful.

When it comes to the ethical side of the "bathing suit habit," one cannot but deplore it. There is a certain fundamental underlying respect that man should have for femininity which he cannot have when it is put upon such a common or familiar basis. I do not go so far as to say that for men and girls to loaf around for hours in bathing suits is degrading to the girls, but it may very easily become so, and insensibly barriers are broken down that would much better be kept up.

A certain gentleness and refinement are lost, a girl becomes indifferent to the small graces, she lacks a dignity of carriage and in a word she becomes more or less "common." It is impossible that it should be otherwise, and if a mother would keep her daughter sweet and well-mannered the bathing suit habit is one that will be sternly interdicted.

Equally if a woman does not wish to have herself discussed among men as they do members of the front row of the chorus she will refrain from putting herself in precisely the same garb for inspection that one seen on the stage.

The most important step toward the prevention of baldness and graying is toward promoting a luxuriant growth. Silken bath is to keep the scalp clean and free from dandruff. All kinds of advice have been given to us, but there has been offered for the removal of hair, and the promotion of hair growth, some bad, some good.

There is, however, one safe, sure and economical way. That is to use Hartman's Remedy. It is absolutely the greatest and most satisfactory way made for every purpose of the bath, toilet, nursery, hair and hair. It is highly medicinal, deodorizing, antiseptic, germicidal and delicates. East Oakland Declares He

On His Street.

The following communication was received from A. Moore regarding water mains on East Twentieth street and was referred to the committee on fire and water of the city council last night:

"I write concerning the lack of water supply on East Twentieth street in East Oakland, and the region around it. In that street there is practically no main at all. Some time ago the house of one of my married children on Twentieth street between Sixth and Seventh avenues, took fire. There is a hydrant immediately in front of the house but there was no water."

NO FIRE PROTECTION.

"On the blocks between Fourth avenue and Seventh avenue on Twentieth street where there are many houses, the water supply can be called nothing for fire purposes. An inspector a few weeks ago opened the hydrant on the so-called main on Twentieth street and Sixth avenue and found the water bore had strength to drizzle from the nozzle of the cone. No water course for insurance, but insurance is never adequate. One would scarcely like to have his house burned with all its contents even though he received full value in money. I would suppose that the insurance companies would take steps to compel water protection in that neighborhood."

POLICE SCARCE.

"On that street and those blocks a police officer has never been seen. We can get along, however, without police protection, but not very well without water. I write in the hope that something may be done toward having proper mains laid down."

"Yours truly, A. A. MOORE."

ANOTHER COMPLAINANT.

The complaint of Dr. A. Galbraith against the action of the People's Water Company in increasing his water rent from $2.70 to $5.65, on account of the discovery of a lawn on his premises, was referred to the fire and water committee by the city council last evening. A communication from the water company to Dr. Galbraith, explaining that the rates are based on a flat rate schedule, and that it is impossible under their rules to admit the charge for the lawn while it is on the premises, was attached to the complaint.

PRELIMINARY STEPS TAKEN TO BOULEVARD 23d AVENUE

City Council Passes on Much Routine
Matter of Interest to the Taxpayers of Oakland

A resolution was read and referred to the street committee of the City Council last night, directing the City Engineer to furnish plans and estimates of cost, etc., for grading, curbing with granite, paving with asphalt upon a concrete foundation and guttering with basalt blocks Twenty-third avenue, from the northeastern boundary line of the City of Oakland, for the purpose of enabling the Council to determine whether bonds may be issued to represent the cost.

This great improvement in the Twenty-third avenue district has long been contemplated, and now that the hill part of the district is fast settling up, it will probably be pushed to completion.

A petition asking that the work be done has been in circulation for a long time and has received a large number of signatures.

SEWERS NOT CUT OFF.

Attorney McCarthy, of San Francisco, in behalf of Charles Butters, the Claremont capitalist, whose property's sewer system was surreptitiously connected with the city sewer on Fifty-ninth street, appeared before the City Council and made an offer in writing whereby Mr. Butters agrees, if the city will permit his sewer connection to remain connected with the Fifty-ninth street sewer, to pay to the City of Oakland $1000 in installments as follows:

$100 first year, $200 second year, $300 third year, $400 fourth year and $500 fifth year.

McCarthy said that Butters has about two blocks of property now sewerizing into the city sewer.

Meese—Isn't there about 1800 feet of Butters' sewer?

McCarthy—There may be.

Meese—Yes, there is 1800 feet of it.

Butters' proposal was referred to the street committee, and the proposed disconnecting of his sewer will be held in abeyance until after the committee reports.

Similar reference was made as to disconnecting outside sewers which have been connected without permission to the city sewer in Harwood and Flori streets.

The contract for seweraging Monte Vista avenue was awarded to Michael Murphy.

A resolution to sewer East Fifteenth street between Eighth and Ninth avenues was rescinded, provided the property owners will pay the cost of publishing, etc.

Property owners were granted permission to construct a sewer in Boyd avenue.

A bill authorizing the Board of Public Works to construct a concrete culvert in Temescal creek at West street was passed to print.

PROMISE TO ABATE.

A communication was received from the Board of Health stating that the Twenty-second street sewer nuisance had been thoroughly discussed at a regular meeting of the Board held August 14 and that everything possible would be done to abate the nuisance.

The protest of Joseph Nelson of 1924 Harmon street, against the sewerage of Sixty-fifth street was denied by the City Council. The Superintendent of Streets reported that the street is open and has been graded and curbed to the Berkeley line for seven years past. The attorney of the protestant had assured him that the city was within its legal rights in preparing to lay the sewer through his property and he did not appear to press his protest.

Property owners were granted permission to improve intersection of Echo and Glen avenues.

The Blake & Bilger Co. was granted permission to grade, curb and macadamize Ninth street between Fallon and Oak streets.

Property owners were granted permission to construct a sidewalk five feet wide on Argus street between West and Grove streets.

A resolution was adopted directing the Superintendent of Streets to issue a partial assessment on a portion of East Side boulevard between the northern line of Peralta avenue and the northern line of Lake avenue.

The plans and specifications submitted by the City Engineer for seweraging Broadway from Nineteenth to Twenty-fourth streets were adopted.

The City Attorney and City Engineer were directed to prepare and submit a resolution of intention for opening and extending Thirty-third street from Telegraph avenue to Elm street, and Fifty-eighth street from its present termination to Ayala street.

BACK TO COMMITTEE.

A map dedicating a certain parcel of land at streets entitled Lake Side Park, Adams Point property, was referred to the committee on streets.

A map dedicating certain lands and streets entitled map of Piedmont Knoll was accepted.

A map dedicating certain lands for street purposes as shown on map of Grand Avenue Heights property was accepted.

The Piedmont Hill Improvement Company was granted permission to grade, curb and macadamize streets shown on map of Grand Avenue Heights.

RESOLUTIONS OF INTENTION.

The following resolutions of intention were adopted:

To sewer Forty-first street from Telegraph avenue easterly to its present terminus, to grade, curb and macadamize Forty-first street from Howe street to Piedmont avenue, to extend Wheeler street to sewer East Sixteenth street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues.

Resolutions were adopted.

Of intention to grade, curb and macadamize the east half of Adeline street from Temescal creek to north boundary line.

Granting Dr. Archibald six weeks leave of absence.

AS TO HOT AIR.

The City Attorney and Building Inspector were requested by resolution to prepare an amendment to the Building Ordinance, so that the Backus Portable Radiator and other air heaters operated under government patent can be used in buildings.

Pendleton asked if the matter had been considered fully in committee, and Meese replied that it had.

Bacchus—I wouldn't have one of the portable radiators in a building of mine—they are throwing them out everywhere.

Aitken—I must differ with my friend Bacchus. I have a Bacchus portable radiator in my house and it works perfectly. The heat is excellent.

President Elliot—Perhaps this matter ought to be referred to Councilman Bacchus so that he could arrange to put a few bricks around it.

Bacchus—if it were referred to the Board of Health they would declare it a public nuisance.

NO MORE EXTENSION.

Councilman Aitken offered a motion that the City Engineer and the Asphalt Company contractors for the improving of East Fourteenth street from Twentieth avenue easterly several blocks, that the extension of the street will be granted to complete the work.

Aitken, in support of his motion, said there was no good reason why the contractor should take up the asphalt on the work of paving a few blocks.

Almost three months ago a 30-day extension of time had been granted them and it was agreed that they intended to further extend it.

Because it were referred to the Board of Health they would declare it a public nuisance.

JAIL ALL TRUST CRIMINALS, SAYS ROOSEVELT

PRESIDENT WANTS NATIONAL LAW TO CONTROL COMPANY INCORPORATION

Declares in Provincetown Speech That Country Must Untiringly Pursue Rich Violators of the Federal Statutes and Land Them in Prison.

POVIDNETOWN, Mass., Aug. 20.—The following address was delivered today by President Roosevelt, on the occasion of the laying of the cornerstone of the Pilgrim Memorial Monument. President Roosevelt dwelt upon lessons taught us by the Pilgrim fathers, and especially with regard to the stern sense of civic duty with which these rugged pioneers were imbued.

The President spoke at length of the necessity of corporation control of the regulation of interstate commerce, and of the intent of the government whenever possible to punish the individual members of corporations which violate the anti-trust laws. Here is the President's speech:

It is not too much to say that the most commented upon speech here to date was one of those rare events which can in good faith be called of world importance. The coming birth of the nation has come to us also since the destinies of this continent, and therefore profoundly affected the destiny of the whole world. Men of other races than the German, the Scotchman, the Dutchman, the German, the Scotchman, and the Swiss made settlements within what is now the United States, during the colonial period of our country's history. The creation of independence; and since then there has been an ever-swelling immigration from Ireland and from the mainland of Europe to put it briefly, the Englishman who settled in Massachusetts who did most in shaping the lines of our national development.

Should Be Grateful For Puritan Influence

We can not as a nation be too profoundly grateful for the fact that the Puritan had a strong influence so deeply on our national life. We need not be arrogant in saying that the men who now rule at the Puritan's faults. They were, of course, for the most part, like all other men, not perfect. But there is something to be learned from them, and that furthermore he joined to a high heart that shewed common sense which saves a man from the besetting sins of the visionary and the doctrinaire. He was stout-hearted and hard-headed. He had lofty purposes, but he could hold his own in the rough workaday world without clamorous insistence upon being helped by others, and yet he could combine with others whenever it became necessary to do so. He could not be as well done by any one man individually.

Must Fulfill Spirit of Our Forefathers

These were the qualities which enabled him to do his work, and they are the very qualities which we must show in doing our work today. There is no use in our coming here to pay homage to the men who founded this nation unless we first of all come in the spirit of doing to our best today what they did then in the yesterdays that have vanished. The problems shift from generation to generation, but the spirit remains ever the same. The Puritan tamed the wild land and built up a free and independent nation on the stump-dotted clearing amid the primeval forest. His descendants must try to shape the life of our complex industrial civilization by new devices, by new methods, so as to achieve in the spirit of the results of the past, and not in the spirit of greed and unfair dealing toward all. He cast aside nothing old merely for the sake of innovation, yet he did not hesitate to adopt anything new that would save his purpose. When he planted his commonwealth on the rugged coast, he did not stop to consider his rights, nor did he consider his obligations to his neighbors. In addition it overrules over national banks. We can do this only by proceeding further along the lines marked out by the recent national legislation.

Free Accord of Liberty of Conscience

We have traveled far since that day that liberty of conscience and freedom from religious persecution were now realized must be as freely accorded to others as it is resolutely insisted upon for ourselves. The spiritual qualities which belong to him and to other Americans who are not of Puritan blood also claim as our heritage. You sons of the Puritans, and we, who are descended from races whom we have all adopted, and all of whom we are all Americans together. We all feel the same pride in the genesis, in the history of our people, and therefore shrink not from standing. It is one which will all together pay homage no matter from what country our ancestors sprang.

Must Beware of Loss of Duty Sense

We have gained some things that the Puritan had not—we of this generation of the twentieth century, here in this great republic, are the ones who must hold fast to certain things which the Puritan had and which we can by no manner of means afford to lose. We have gained a right of living which he had not and which it is good to have, but we must not lose what is more important still: that we do not lose the Puritan's iron sense of duty, his unshaken unconquerable will to do right. It was given him to see the right. It is a good thing that he should gain in sweetness, but only provided that it does not lose in strength. Things, but only if they come as the reward of work well done, of a good fight well won, of strong effort, resolute mad and crowning success, are acceptable. The mere pleasure of mere effortless ease is as ignoble for a nation as for an individual.

Ease and Pleasure Not Chief Objects

The man is but a poor father who teaches his sons that ease and pleasure should be their chief objects in life; the woman who is a mere petted toy. The Puritan, who shrank from effort and duty, is more pitiable than the over-worked drudge. So he is but a poor leader of the people, but a poor moral teacher, and he would not be fit to be a political leader, but from the standpoint of the interests of the people as a whole.

We Must Uphold National Sovereignty

National sovereignty is to be upheld in so far as it means the sovereignty of the people used for the real and ultimate good of the people; and state's rights are not to be denied, but the people's rights are to be upheld, not from the standpoint of the interests of the people as a whole.

Experience has shown that it is necessary to exercise a far more efficient control of the power present over the public welfare of the various other corporations which are used as under modern conditions they almost invariably are) in interstate business. When the constitution creates a new or different kind of modern business existed. They are now new and we must create new agencies to deal effectively with them.

There is no question that the main object of the people's earnings any amount of money if he does it honestly and fairly, if he gets it as the result of special skill and enterprise, and the result of a long and strenuous effort rendered. But there is a growing determination that no man shall amass a great fortune by special privilege, by chicanery and wrongdoing. This is the power of the government to prevent and that the fortune when amassed shall not have a business use that is antisocial. Most large corporations do business that is not democratic and open as the representatives of the government may previously approve. But it will not be possible to prevent which is the first stage must be the second stage in a course of proceedings which the first stage is the exercise of a far more complete control by the national government ultimately to find necessary. The principle of the Sherman law, as far as it goes, is to prohibit combinations which whether because of their extent or their character, are harmful to the public must always be preserved. Ultimately, however, the responsibility of the national government must pass laws which, while increasing the supervisory and regulatory power of the government, also permits such a large corporation as the representatives of the government may previously approve. But it will not be possible to prevent which is the first stage must be the second stage in a course of proceedings which the first stage is the exercise of a far more complete control by the national government to exact from them in return a full measure of justice to the public. I believe in national incorporation law for corporations engaged in interstate commerce, but, as is well known, the crime of which is to be held in contempt in favor of the defendant, and in our country, at least, both judge and jury are far more inclined to consider his rights than they are the rights of the public.

In addition it is always true that a man's general practices may be as bad as a civil action will be when it may not be possible to convict him of any one criminal act.

Experience has shown that the effort to control these corporations by mere arrests and convictions which whether because of the extent or their character, are harmful to the public must always be preserved. ASSOCIATED PRESS BUSY

Improvement in Service Recorded for Past Week, Despite Its Strike Troubles.

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—The Associated Press service has made gradual improvement during the past week in spite of the strike of its operators. In the Eastern and Central divisions 179 of the old men are at their keys and less than 65 are out.

Five hundred new men have returned to the Chicago office, and practically every wire in the Chicago office is managed day and night. At Indianapolis two of the best men returned to work yesterday, and the service is gradually throughout the central division.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

The net result yesterday was the return of four regular men to work, one man rejected, and two applications for positions refused. The Chicago office has been filled by outside men.

In California regular operators are at work in San Francisco, Berkleyfield, Oakland, San Jose, and San Diego, and the leased office service is going to papers in those cities.

Other papers are receiving a news service on the lines of the Pacific News Service, the San Fran., San Jose, San Union and Postal Telegraph companies.

One operator is at work in the Portland office.

FAIR COMEDY MADE A HIT

Bishop Players Enjoyed—Strong
Bills at Other Theaters—
Opera Tomorrow.

Manager H. W. Bishop of Y. Liberty put Oakland up another notch on the ladder of theatrical fame last night, when the company that bears his name presented for the first time on the coast Leo Dostich Stein's farcical comedy "Before and After."

It is less than a year since this play was first produced in the East and its presentation last night is a credit to the enterprise of the management and gives Oakland the opportunity of experiencing an evening of continuous laughter, a luxury that excels anything we have had since "Charley's Aunt" was young. The play is on the Charley's Aunt order and treats of the predicaments everybody undergoes through taking a wonderful patent medicine called Sunny Jim powder.

A motion to re-refer the King & Tilts application was lost by a tie vote, Aitken, Beccus, Mullins, Burns and Stachler opposing, while Ellsworth, Pendleton, Moese, Everhart and Ellott voted to refer.

On motion to grant the license only Everhart and Pendleton voted "nay." Jackson was absent.

MACKAY SUTHERLAND.

Kob and Dill opened their last week in Oakland at the Columbia. Theater last night and scored their usual success. From a business and advertising standpoint it would have been good judgment if the famous comedians had opened their engagement here in "Lonesome Town," which bill they are now producing, for they have better opportunity and are funnier by far in this burlesque than in anything that they have yet put on in Oakland. Kob and Dill as three tramps trying to claim the Town of Watts are a continual scream of laughter throughout the entire show, their singing of Lonesome Town followed with a very lazy waltz dance is a feature of the bill and one of the best things they ever tried. Neva Aymar, with bright, gay songs and dances, is more than a feature; she is a hit, her work being highly appreciated by the audience. The entire burlesque is replete with catchy songs by the members of the company and chorus and the farewell week is one that should not be missed.

A change of venue was granted by Judge Waste yesterday to John W. Gleason, a San Francisco plaintiff proceeding against him by Attorney George W. Reed in San Francisco courts. Reed wants $450 for damages and rental which the claim is off from Gleason and the latter was trying to get the lawyer's automobile with the intention of buying it. Reed declares he was treated very badly by Gleason, and has no doubt he will win the case in court.

TIE VOTE ON LIQUOR PERMIT

Belated Protest to City Council
Finally Fails—Two Lose,
27 Succeed.

At the last moment of the meeting of the city council last evening a protest was presented against the application for a liquor license by King & Tilts at 741 San Pablo avenue.

Chairman Ellsworth of the license committee wanted the application sent back to the committee which had recommended that it be granted.

Mullins broke away from the others and said he had read the protest, which seemed inadequate, as it looked to him as if it was in the interest of two other saloons in the vicinity.

A motion to re-refer the King & Tilts application was lost by a tie vote, Aitken, Beccus, Mullins, Burns and Stachler opposing, while Ellsworth, Pendleton, Moese, Everhart and Ellott voted to refer.

On motion to grant the license only

Everhart and Pendleton voted "nay."

Jackson was absent.

THREE DENIED.

The application of Henry Rose Martin, 1200 Market street, and James Higgins, 771 Webster street, A. Brachini, 1651 Seventh street, for permission to obtain liquor licenses were denied.

Joseph Osake, No. 1650 Seventh street, was granted permission to withdraw his application for a liquor license.

The application of the Claremont Wine Company, southwest corner of Claremont Avenue and Sixty-second street for permission to obtain a liquor license was placed on file.

NO DUST OLD BOARD.

In the meantime, having named a new board of police commissioners, Mayor Taylor will immediately take steps to prefer charges against the board of police commissioners of the Schmitz administration, and will oust them from office.

The Schmitz incumbents declare that they will fight to retain office and assert that Taylor will be unable to remove them. Chief Clerk Dan also is busy trying to ward off his threatened removal from office.

FORESTER CONVENTION INVITED TO COAST

At the request of members of the Foresters of America who will attend the convention to be held in Chicago an auxiliary representative, the local Chamber of Commerce, has sent an invitation to the convention to hold its session in San Francisco in 1909. The local representatives desire that all commercial bodies in the bay cities join in securing the convention for San Francisco.

WASHINGTON MARKET Renovating Premises

Lesser Brothers, proprietors of the Washington Market, southwest corner of Washington and Ninth streets, will soon occupy the entire two stories for their rapidly increasing trade, the carpenters being now engaged in renovating and remodeling the premises. When the alterations are completed it will be one of the largest and best appointed business houses in Oakland. Although the popular owners have been in this city but a few months, they have at once jumped into popularity and they enjoy a lucrative trade, which is constantly on the increase, and which allows them of treating their patrons with the approbation of their customers. Lesser Brothers conduct a big meat establishment in San Jose and are practical men in their line and enjoy an enviable reputation in commercial circles in this section of the State.

STEINWAY AND OTHER PIANOS

VICTOR TALKING MACHINES

Every Steinway, Five Hundred to Thousands of Dollars, is an "Art Piano"

A Steinway "art piano" has been sold for $50,000 + scores of others for $3000, $5000, $10,000, $15,000. Case decoration made up the extraordinary cost. In musical qualities these costlier pianos are just like the Steinways offered in this store today at $25 upward.

The $525 Vertegrand is as perfect a piano as the $50,000 piano—money cannot make it better—effort, skill, experience, science, can not make it better. It is an "art piano" in the broader sense.

The $800 Miniature Grand is as artistic as the piano that cost twenty times as much. The greatest piano-makers in the world's history have lavished all of their knowledge and all of their affection on it. Nothing can be added to it save decoration in case—which, after all, is a mere matter of taste.

Is it not fortunate for you that an "art piano" may be had at a figure so near the price of a mediocre instrument?

SCHMITZ BOWS TO INEVITABLE

Declares He Respects Decision of Supreme Court in Declaring Taylor Mayor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—"The decision of the court ends the legal dispute over the office of Mayor between Mr. Taylor and myself. I bow to the mandate of the court and will respect its decision the same as any other law-abiding citizen. I have nothing else to say."

The above statement was made at the county jail last night by Eugene E. Schmitz, who thereby indicated his intention to no further dispute the legality of the appointment of Taylor. Schmitz will now devote his time to his appeal from the verdict of the Superior Court, convicting him of extortion, and for which crime he has been sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

FOR FIFTY YEARS.

Oakland is given as the principal place of business for a corporative life of fifty years. There is no capital stock, nor is anything mentioned in the articles regarding financial matters.

Incorporators are Oscar Howe, of 541 Nineteenth street; Thomas G. Stark, of 708 Duncan street; Eugene Smith, of 678 Thirteenth street; Frank M. Eichler, of 3219 Andover street and Nellie C. Lane, of 1369 Twentieth avenue, all of this city.

EST OAKLAND CLUB HAS GREAT CONTEST ON TONIGHT

Four-Round Game in Danger of Being Stopped—Griegains Gets Permit—Kaufman Expected Today at Croll's.

The West Oakland Club tonight the will offer to their patrons one of the contests that has ever been offered the last eight fans. The contest can particularly be said of the event, since Frankie Edwards "Knockout" Jim Kane, Kane is making first appearance in Oakland, but he is well known across the bay, and he has a record of four-round contests as long as one's arm, he will not be strange to the fans who patronize four-round game there. Kane who is a brother of Jack Kane, a cow hollow lad who a few years ago won up some of the best contests ever in Oakland at the Reliance Club, is one of the cleverest boys appearing in short bouts. He is not a knocker out, but has the most tantalizing left jab, which he lands and gets away from return with lightning-like rapidity. Under the most severe punishment he usually smiles, and that grin, which comes so hard to knock off, in connection with the tantalizing left jabs, has been the cause of many of the four-round contests of Frisco losing their heads, and consequently the decision.

Edwards is well known to the Oakland fans, but since his last appearance here he has improved considerably and will be much faster and better fighter when he steps into the ring tonight than he was for a fight in Oakland.

The two boys met some time ago, and after the best contest of the night at amateur night in Dreamland Pavilion, the contest was declared a draw.

Since that time both boys have been looking for a chance at the other fellow, believing that he is sure to prove the better man in another try. The matchmaker of the West Oakland Club was ready in getting the boys to sign up, and the contest, barring accidents, should prove the best feature event that the fans has yet offered.

The remainder of the card is equally strong and there is not the slightest doubt but that a great crowd will turn out to witness the bout.

Alex Greigains was awarded his permit for the Schreck-Kaufman contest at the meeting of the Supervisors yesterday and is now ready to devote all his time and attention to the promotion of the contest.

Alex was not in the least satisfied with the way that things run at the Britt-Nelson fight and had announced that from now on he will endeavor to devise some system by which each and every one purchasing a reserved seat ticket will get the location that the coupon calls for. The city fathers not only granted the right permit to Greigains that he desired, but also gave every indication of the fact that they were about to close down the so-called amateur contests that is to land it right.

Alerts Defeat The Piedmonts

Mike Schreck Working Hard

For the second time the Alerts scored a decisive victory over the Piedmonts at St. Mary's grounds Sunday afternoon.

The game was interesting throughout, as the score up to the fifth inning was 2 to 1 in favor of the Alerts. A large crowd witnessed the game. The Alerts landed on O'Neill in the fifth and scored 3 runs, also scoring 2 more in the ninth. Perrotti pitched a well ball for the Alerts, allowing but two hits and sending eight men to the bench over the strikeout route.

The Alerts have an open date for next Sunday, August 25, and would like to hear from any fast amateur teams, Festivals preferred. Address H. Bartley, 1025 Adeline street, Oakland.

Rugby Team Will Play Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—The Barbarians, the new Rugby team, under the leadership of Harry Elliott turned out yesterday for practice at the Park stadium. Many recruits were on hand, and from the way they practiced it is evident that they will be able to put up a good game against the University teams when they meet.

The fifteen will be selected this week for a game at the campus at Berkeley in the near future.

The following will be among those selected for the game: Shanks, Horse-ford, Buckingham, Hutton, Price, Winsor, the Pomeroy brothers, Phillips, Hyland, Renwick, Lafferty, Womble, Elliot, Turner, Taylor, Jenkins, Peterick, Bolton and Owens.

Bone-Browed Player's Unique Plan to Ruin a College Hat

For the first time since Wright joined the Oakland team he was in a brotherly talkative mood last night. "Well, I'll tell you about Bone Brow," said

"B.E." At the same time that he joined our team there was a swell young college player, who also got along with us.

"This college boy was a model of his kind—the same as you see pictures of in the marked down clothing salons. He wore the dinkiest hat I ever saw, one of those fried egg effects, with a garish silk band representing his college colors."

"Mr. Bone Brow couldn't see this innovation in head gear without offering a protest. Every time the hat with the box in it passed Mr. Bone Brow it had the same effect on him as waving a red flag in a bull's face. It was the delight of Mr. Bone Brow to sit awake nights and scheme for the destruction of that bonnet."

"One night Mr. Bone Brow sat up later than usual. All the boys asked him why he didn't hit the hat, but all the answer they got was a sullen reply that he was not sleepy."

"The next morning we learned to our great amusement the cause of Mr. Bone Brow's insomnia. When the young college player reported for break-

"fast next morning, he had the appearance of a man who had slept on a tack. "What's the matter with you?" asked one of the players. Eat something."

"That didn't set well on your stomach?"

"What's the matter?" roared the college man. "Well—I'll tell you what's the matter. While I was asleep last night some fellow broke a dozen eggs in my bed, and I'd like to know who the deuce it was."

"We all assumed ignorance of the master of the offense, but we had a hunching suspicion that Mr. Bone Brow was at the bottom of that egg-hatched plot for the destruction of the dinky hat."

HE WON'T BE HAPPY UNTIL HE GETS IT.

Interesting Notes About Racing Matter

By LEE DEMIER

Tommy Halpin, the handy man at Williams Park, accompanied by his wife, left yesterday for a short vacation to the northern part of California.

Jockey Miller has purchased the Arcadia bath-house at Brighton Beach for $2600. The jockey has invested a lot of money down near the sand surf this summer.

Jockeys G. Burns and James Hogg were suspended at Saratoga Wednesday by the stewards for lack of obedience at the barrier.

Louis Cella, the racetrack magnate, has taken a contract on the service of Jockey V. Powers.

A number of horses who are quartered outside of Williams Park are getting their "prep" for the coming Petaluma meeting.

Jockey E. Martin was barred from riding at Empire City.

All the racing information you want is in the Racing Extras.

"Broadway Alec" Smith, who was denied the privileges of the Saratoga track, came to Yonkers from the Spa, but was told that his room was more desirable than his company.

The stewards at Empire City caused the following notice to be posted this afternoon:

There is talk of building a race track at Alexandra, near Washington, D. C.

The reported sale of the Douglas Park race track to the Kentucky State Fair Association did not take place.

W. Shields sold several horses, including Servile and Diamond at the Empire City track last Saturday.

Riley Graman is among the bookmakers in line at Empire City track.

Tobe Ramsey's School Girl, which was backed heavily to win the curtain raiser at the Meadows yesterday sent many a afternoon in the jockeys' room: "Any jockey found in the betting ring will be fined, suspended or ruled off."

The many friends of Alex Shields in Montreal will be sorry to learn that he is still confined to his home at Round Brook and is far from being a well man. Mr. Shields is well known to Oakland and San Francisco race-goers.

S. M. Apperson, who for several years was in the stand at Montgomery Park and other tracks, has been appointed presiding judge for the meeting which is to open at Norfolk, Va., August 22.

That Sunday morning crowd that turned out to see the Oakland team wallop the Los Angeles bunch is certain evidence that Oakland is getting to be quite a baseball town.

From present indications the chances are that Oakland will get more baseball next season. If the Tuesday games only increase in volume there is great possibility that Oakland may get three games a week next season instead of two, the number now prevailing.

Why should Oakland have at least twenty games a week? This city is supporting its baseball team this season and Oakland is by odds too large and cosmopolitan a city to ask the other cities of this league to support her ball club.

It is up to the fans of Oakland to get out and attend the ball games on Tuesday afternoons and by so doing force the Pacific Coast League to see that the city can and will support at least three games a week on this side of the bay.

Beginning this afternoon we will have Danny Long's team for a series of games. This should be a boost for the Oakland team, as San Francisco has been the one team that Oakland's can wallop truly and consistently.

It wouldn't be humane to tell just exactly what we have done to the Seals. They are in our midst now and we are not of that sort which cares to heap any humiliation on the shoulders of a visitor. But at the same time we are not above hoping that we will be able to demolish San Francisco's pennant hopes in the coming series.

If Oakland can win from the Seals the majority of games in the series—and they should—and Portland has any success at all against the Angels then before the week's end is reached we may have a chance to look at Oakland heading the list in the percentage column. That wouldn't be a bad sight for the eyes, either. In fact would sort of please us to see the "Prides" leading the league.

We would mean increased interest in the game all along the line. Los Angeles has been in the lead too long. We hope that before the end of the week is reached that our Prides will be up neck and neck with them or ahead of them in the race for the pennant hunting.

It is one cinch that the eastern league magnates will take our friend Walter Carrolls seriously after that swatting feat of his last Sunday.

It is fine that in our life we don't have to look for trouble.

It took a lot of people to throw one pabbie.

We opine that some youngster was the thrower of the rock. Anyhow, San Francisco has got enough rock-throwers of enough variety to attend to without going out of its way to look for rock-throwers in other communities. We wonder if the baseball editor of the morning paper who castigated Oakland ever read the adage about the glass houses.

Just for the sake of variety, we wouldn't mind seeing three more home runs, even if it was against our own Prides.

JUDGE SMITH STARTS EAST

Eagles Give Justice and Wife Farewell and Shower Them With Rice.

The City Council last evening adopted resolutions providing that the park bonds shall bear interest from their date instead of from the date of their issuance, as provided before. It was further resolved the date of the bonds be made January 15, 1907, and that each coupon show upon its face the number of the bond to which it shall be attached. The resolutions were adopted under a suspension of the rules.

In introducing the amending resolution, Councilman Pendleton complimented City Attorney McElroy on his care and accuracy in drawing up the bond issue. He also paid a grateful tribute to the public spirit displayed by the Oakland banks in taking up the bonds. "The city is greatly indebted to the patriotism of the Oakland banks for the sale of the bonds," said Pendleton. "On June 15 we called for bids on the bonds, but not a single one was submitted. Then the banks got together and by hard work raised sufficient money to take the bonds. The thanks of the Council and the city are due the Oakland banks."

TO VISIT HOME.

Judge Smith will stop first in New Orleans, where his mother's home is situated. After a short sojourn there he will go direct over the water to Washington for a short time and then will visit his old home in Pennsylvania.

He will then go to New York.

From New York he will go to other Eastern points and then will go up into Canada.

Crossing the great lakes into Chicago.

Judge and Mrs. Smith will return home to their home in Oakland City. The trip will consume six months.

Judge Smith came to California when he was six years old and has not made up to the East since that time. He looks forward with anxiety to seeing his old negro "mammy," Aunt Eileen, who nursed both him and his mother when she was 90 years of age and decides that her only ambition in life is to see Judge Smith before she dies.

TROLLEY KILLS THREE HORSES

Leather Gloves Driver Wore Saved His From Electrocution With Animals.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—The trolley wires of the United Railroads at Montgomery and Clay streets broke yesterday afternoon, killed three horses, narrowly missed electrocuting the driver, J. E. Gutten, and endangered the lives of a score of passing pedestrians. For an hour the wires were swept back and forth, until the wrecking crew of the company arrived and carried them back to their guy wires.

The United Railroads people claim that a derrick used by McGlynn Brothers for hoisting stone work to a building in the course of construction at Clay and Montgomery streets collided with the wires, causing the break.

According to the police when Driver Gutten was driving his lumber team under the wires. Without a warning, the highly charged carriels fell across his path. With his leather glove as an insulator, Gutten quickly hustled the death-dealing copper to one side. The tangled wires fell across the two wheel horses and the leader, killing them instantly. The animals were owned by the Olsen-Manahan Lumber Company and were valued at $300 each.

SIXTH OIL PROCLAIMS INNOCENCE IN PAMPHLET

Company Declares "Socialistic Outcry
Below and Political Pressure Above"
Makes Fair Hearing Impossible.

NEW YORK, August 28.—The Standard Oil directors today issued a pamphlet to employees and stockholders relative to a fine of $1,400,000 imposed on the Indiana company. A noteworthy feature of the company's declaration of absolute innocence of wrongdoing in any of the accusations lately instituted against it and particularly so in the Chicago and New York cases, is the statement that the pamphlet states that if judgment is allowed to stand the company would be compelled to pay fifty times the value of every carload of oil carried over the Alton road during two years at an open six-cent rate, a rate now exacted by competing railroads for more than fourteen years.

"To the higher courts," the pamphlet continues, "we must look for that calm judgment which will rescue rights of citizens from the field of public clamor and demands of vindictive politicians and statesmen, and which has been the warfare of the Federal administration against the Standard Oil Company that it has been difficult to get a fair hearing before the public or in a large portion of the press, the latter being swayed alike by socialistic outcry from below and political pressure from above."

COLDWELL BACK IN WORK OF EDUCATION

Detective H. H. Caldwell has returned from his vacation and resumed his work as detective for the board of public works. Detective Caldwell's duties consist principally in keeping a watch out for citizens and others who litter up the streets with refuse. Not many arrests have been made by Caldwell since he assumed his duties in the board of works, but very effective results have been accomplished. His work has been more in the nature of a campaign of education than of punishment, and he has been very successful in persuading the citizens of Oakland to take pride in the appearance of the public streets.

FLEEING ROBBER LANDS IN ARMS OF POLICEMAN

Teamster Interrupts a Man in the Act of Looting Fruit Store and Captures Fellow After Chase.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—William Casey, a teamster, while standing in front of the Eureka Restaurant on Valencia street about 2 o'clock this morning, noticed a man fooling with the lock on the fruit stand at 1026 Valencia street. He walked across the street, and as he approached, the man walked away from the door and proceeded down toward Twenty-second street. Casey found that the lock had already been broken, and thinking to find an officer, he followed the man. The would-be robber turned into Twenty-second street, and as soon as he was out of sight took off his coat and ran. But as luck would have it, E. Licenio Rotanzi was standing on the corner of Twenty-second and Guerrero streets, and the man ran right into his arms.

He was identified by Casey, and when booked at the city prison on a charge of attempt to commit burglary, he gave his name as Walter Einway, a waiter, 23 years old.

Dr. J. Lee Prosser, a dentist of this city, sued Jack Kerr in Justice of the Peace Quinn's court this morning for $50, this amount being for dental service alleged to have been rendered Miss Mabel Howard of 1368 Grove street.

Miss Howard testified that she was sent to Dr. Prosser by Kerr, who also promised to pay her dental bill.

On the witness stand Kerr denied that he promised to pay the bill. He testified that he promised to pay for the first dental visit Miss Howard had none, and amounted to $25, which he paid the second bill, which amounted to $50.

Kerr stated that Dr. Prosser called upon Miss Howard at 4 o'clock in the morning to demand payment to him and gave this as one of his reasons for refusing to pay the bill.

Judge Quinn rendered judgment against Miss Howard for $57.

Companion Under Arrest by

SAN JOSE, Aug. 20.—Mrs. Nellie Kearns, a young woman of the half-world, died this morning from the effects of a beating she received at the hands of last night. She was found by a man, a bartender named Rialto Erickson, on Santa Teresa street. The man was arrested and is now in jail. He denies that he beat her and the woman before dying said that she was beaten by an unknown man.

BELL THEATER.

Nelle Elting, assisted by Harry Earle, is presenting a sketch at the Bell Theater this week that is unusually clever. It is entitled "Picking the Winner" and tells a race track story. Both Miss Elting and Mr. Earle are clever performers and they handle their difficult lines very acceptably. The wording of the little playlet is bright and when there is not humor, there is heart interest. The audience that witnessed "Picking the Winner" last night was loud in its applause and the playlet promises to be very popular during the week.

A feature of the Bell's program especially designed for the amusement of children is furnished by Kriesel's trained dogs and cats. They are remarkably well trained, one dog balancing a feather on the tip of his nose, and another dancing a serpentine dance while clothed in a white silk dress. It is amusing, but it is also interesting.

Jesse E. Rowe and Marguerite Ferguson furnish a sketch entitled "A Bit of Variety." It is a combination of singing, dancing and nonsense and parts of it are very good. The Tancans, Japanese top spinners and magicians, have an interesting act and it is nicely staged.

Maybelle Mekler supplies a combination of singing, dancing and acrobatic contortion work. She is clever. Bevans and Kenny, singers and dancers, are very good in their way. There are a number of musical groups and bands.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES TO MEET.

The Board of Education will meet tonight in the city council chamber in the city hall. After adjournment, the regular meeting of the school trustees will be held in the same room.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 20.—A new orchard pest, the brown bay moth, the caterpillar of which feeds on the prune leaf, has made its appearance in quite large numbers.

This is a native insect and as it carries three different kinds of parasites that do not do great damage it appears to be a good pest.

This is the first year this pest has ever infested the orchards.
